Short Blurb

When Cosmo agrees to take a cross-country road trip with his sister Silvia, he never anticipates that a near fatal accident will cause him to re-evaluate his life and open his eyes to the many possibilities in his world.

Originally from New Jersey, Grace Mattioli now lives in San Francisco with her husband and three cats. She has worked as a professional librarian for over eighteen years and has been writing creatively since she was a child. She has participated in several writing workshops and classes. She has been most influenced by such contemporary writers as Flannery O'Connor and such works of fiction as James Joyce's The Dead and Douglas Adam's Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy.

She published Olive Branches Don't Grow On Trees in 2012. This is the first book in the Greco family trilogy. Discovery of an Eagle (May 2014), is the second book in the trilogy although it can be read as a stand-alone. In addition to her two novels, she has several works of flash fiction published on the UK Short Humour site.
